COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Sept. 28—(P)—A serious shortage of cotton seed for 1951 plantings is possible, Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist at Texas A. and M., said today.

He said there are two factors: 1. Unfavorable weather in the nation's heavy cotton producing areas, and 2. Increased 1951 plantings which will boost the demand for seed.

Elliott recommended that farmers who have a good supply of the better adapted varieties of cotton store this seed for 1951 planting use. Good gin-run seed of the adopted variety should be saved in each area to take care of the maximum acreage that might be planted in 1951.

President Truman presumably approved the essentially military decision that MacArthur should be authorized to send troops across the parellel, the border between North and South Korea, if that is necessary to the destruction of the North Korean army.

Presumably, also, it was reviewed with other members of the UN, under whose flag MacArthur is directing fighting forces in Korea. Authorities here said the decision was based on the UN Security Council's resolution of June 27 which called on member nations to furnish aid to South Korea "to repel the armed attack and to restore international peace and security in the area."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reportedly has been given authority to send troops across the 38th parallel into North Korea if that action is necessary to destroy the Communist army.

September Employment Record Sets New High For Year in Navarro County

Navarro county's overall employment record for September scored a new high for the current year, and all but exceeded total employment for any period since World War II ended, except that for October, 1949, when the county produced the biggest cotton crop in a number of years.

Traffic Light Is Occupied By Swarm Of Bees

A swarm of bees, which threatened traffic and pedestrians at the intersection of Collin and Beaton streets Wednesday, was herded off by the Ross Bros. Apiaries of 113 North Commerce street. Arriving at the stop light, John Ross swept the bees around until he located the queen. He placed her in a box and in a matter of minutes the others followed. The bees. Nelson Ross said, will be taken to one of the firm's hives in the country. "The bees aren't much good to us at this time of the year, but we are glad to pick them up. We want the bees to be liked by people," ad-

Are Given Oaths

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—(R)—The oath of attorney was administered 150 new Texas lawyers in the Supreme Court Tuesday. They were part of the class of 253 that passed the bar examinations in July.

Albert P. Jones of Houston, president of the State Bar, urged a law to bar Communists from the practice of law in Texas.

"I hope the legislature will authorize the bar to require the anti-Communist oath from persons licensed to practice law in Texas," Jones said. He suggested such oath should be renewable annually.

Attorney General Price Daniel welcomed the young lawyers and the oath was administered by Chief Justice J. E. Hickman. Willard Williams of Garland, who made the highest grade in the July bar examinations, responded.

Daniels' Biography Of President Starts Political Skeleton Dance

By JACK BELL WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—(P)— Jonathan Daniels' blography of President Truman set political skeletons dancing today in a parade which might affect the November

Republicans picked up from the writings of the presidential confidante and former White House aide the statement that Truman appeared "lost in uncertainty and ineptitude" in handling one vital foreign policy decision in 1946.

Southern Democrats whom the administration has been trying to woo back into the fold bristled anew at word the president once said James F. Byrnes had "failed miserably as secretary of state." The New York Herald Tribune quoted Byrnes as replying: "If he felt that way, why should he have wanted a miserable failure around?"

wanted a miserable failure around?"

Some Find Solace

Truman supporters found solace in repeated presidential statements as recorded by Daniels that Truman had opposed for years any policy of appeasement of Russia.

Daniels, who is publisher of the Raleigh, N. C.; News and Observer and is Democratic National Committeeman for his state, titled his book "The Man of Independence."

A White House aide said Truman read part—but not all—of it in advance of today's publication. There seemed little doubt that Truman had looked over—and thus unofficially approved—the quotes in which he siapped at Byrnes, his former secretary of state who now is in line to become the next Democratic Governor of South Carolina.

Soviet Incident Missed

The president may have missed, however, some of Daniels' own observations and such incidents as that in which Truman was quoted as saying that Winston Churchill tried to get him not to withdraw American troops from Prague, Czechoslovakia, but he insisted that it must be done to keep agreements with the Russians.

"But if I had known then what I know now, I would have ordered the troops to go to the western boundaries of Russia." Daniels quoted the president as saying.

The Republican opposition theme has been that Truman didn't know what he was doing many times in handling foreign relations. They have accused him of "appeasing" Russia and have called him "haphazard Harry" in his dealings with other nations.

The attack on Byrnes embodied in the presidential quoted emphasized the presidential quoted emphasized the presidential quoted emphasized the presidential quoted emphasized the presidential vacht "williamsburg" after the 1945 Moscow conference because he believed Byrnes protested against the president's advance endorsement of the speech, Daniels wrote that the American policy toward Russia.

Daniels noted that the Wallace speech was "the extreme opposite" of views expressed by Winston Churchill in a Missouri speech six months before, and he added:

The President then faced the problem of breaking the news to Bruce. He imposed tight secrecy on the whole operation until Douglas came home and formally submitted his resignation.

Bruce Is Informed

Then he called in Bruce and told him Gifford would get the job. Bruce and the President are reliably reported to have quit as friends but the politicians are wondering how enthusiastically Bruce will regard any future Truman political contests.

Persons familiar with the President's views say he picked Gifford for the London post because he considered him the best qualified man for the job. He wanted some one with a knowledge of government operation, sound judgment, administrative ability and personal wealth.

Gifford had done government work during both World Wars and in the early days of the depression. He could afford the extra expenses of being envoy to London. These may amount to as much as $25,000 a year above the $25,000 aslary and about $15,000 in allowances which the job carries.

Also the fact that he is a Republican is regarded at the White Touse as strengthening bi-partisan or the capitol. Democratic and service at the Baptist church Sunday night.

In order to name Gifford to London, Truman had to refuse the assignment to former Ambassador James Bruce, who had previously served as envoy to Argentina and as director of the European rearmament program in the state department.

Like Johnnso, Bruce is reported to have raised additional funds. Months ago newsmen heard that the President had told him he would go to London when Ambassador Lewis Douglas quit.

But when Douglas sent word about three weeks ago that his health would not permit him to serve any longer, the President decided on Gifford. The decision apparently was made on Secretary of State Acheson's recommendation.

If no allotments are made, all growers would be eligible.

At present, prices are far above price support levels and cotton is moving out from under price support storage. But an unduly large crop next year could well pull prices down to support levels and lead farmers to put a lot of it back under government loans.

Discontinuance of allotments could be expected, officials said, to encourage greater expansion in

One of the few undamaged buildings is the home of Syngman Rhee, president of the Republic of Korea. It is a beautiful home on a green hillside. Curiously enough the Reds left it unmarked, and it was not hit by American bombardments.

The ideological hatreds stirred by the Reds are burning at white heat. Self-elected Seoul police are rounding up Communists and Red sympathizers—real and imagined—and holding courts of their own.

At one building these police gathered a group of men and women—one mother with a child slung over her back—and they were giving them a rough time until Marines stepped in to take over the situation.

The Communist left behind fires of hatred that will burn longer than the buildings which are still smouldering in Seoul.

Three Hospitals To Be Reopened

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(P)—
Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) said today the armed services will reopen three hospitals to care for wounded returning from the Korean front.

vinson, chairman of the house armed services committee, said they are the Army General Hospital at Valley Forge, Pa.; the Murphy General Hospital at Waltham, Mass., and the Percy Jones General Hospital at Battle Creek, Mich. The three hospitals are among those which were shut down last spring as an economy measure. He said he has been informed hospital facilities at nine army camps will be increased a total of almost 13,000 beds before the first of the year.

Vinson said the camps and forts where expansions will be made in-

'Off' Week Not Idle For Navarro Bulldog Eleven

Thought the Navarro Junior College gridders have no game booked for this week there is no let-up in days.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Coaches Clark and Akridge have set aside for stress on the Bulldog offense, which lacked steam in Weatherford last week.

steam in Weatherford last week. Coming in for particular stress here is the running game.

The lone Navarro TD in the Weatherford game was set up on passes, and had the Bulldog running kept pace with the passing. Navarro might have been on top at game-end.

Navarro might have been on top at game-end.

The latter part of the week will be spent on defensive work, Clark indicated Tuesday.

"Our boys came out of the Weatherford game OK," Clark said, "and we'll work hard this week, even though we don't have a game scheduled. The boys are getting ready to come along."

Navarro is host here on Oct. 7 to Cisco Junior College. It is the Bulldogs! first home game of the 1950 season, and they plan to open it in the right style.

When you see a low, low price on pork roast, ask yourself, "Is it really a bargain?" The answer is "No!" IF it's cut from a big, over-fat pork loin from which all the choice center has been removed. There'll be mighty little eating on it and the price PER SERVING will be plenty high, even if the price PER POUND is low!

A&P "Super Right" Standards Never Permit Such Selling Methods A&P sells only tender, young, medium-weight pork. Loins are usually cut into three parts of approximately equal weight. Both ends contain plenty of desirable center meat. The center sells as pork chops or centercut roast at a slightly higher price. We could divide the loin so all the choice meaty part sells at a higher price, but we don't. You get more good eating from A&P "Super Right" pork roast, more for your money. (If prefer a larger roast we will sell you the whole loin or either half.)

Circuit Judge George E. Holt signed an order impounding all money, automobiles and other property of 11 persons allegedly involved in the case, including $10,000 now in the hands of the court.

The tieup of property included the eight named in the criminal action, together with Michael Orr, 21, husband of Rita; Cecella Hay, 20, and William Matthew Albert, 21, who police said was engaged to marry Marie Orr.

Five are Fined

In the oral confessions, later repudiated and never signed, police said some of the girls admitted taking rolls of quarters from the phone company counting room by stuffing the money in their brassieres.

The girls admitted, according to police, that some of the estimated $100,000 went for automobiles, payments on houses and for bonds.

Five of the women appeared at the telephone company office Wednesday, accompanied by their attorney, and asked for their jobs back, District Manager J. M. Phillips told them they had been fired.

More concern about the nation's land—and less worry about the atom bomb—seems to be the general theme of agricultural exhibits at Corsicana's 14th annual livestock and agricultural show.

A long line of colorful exhibits stresses efficient, well-balanced farming operations with conservation, crop rotation, contour farming, gully control, pasture improvement, terraces and sound management.

An FFA poster asks, "What will your son inherit? A good farm, growing good crops, or 'strip cropping?"
Although excellent products are on evhibit, less emphasis is given them. Stressed are the reason and the farm operations behind them, thus increasing the educational value of the show.

Everytime you look up, there's Hugh—a genius at these fairs.....Navarro county's new county agent, Harold Franke, looked over the fair Wednesday and conferred with his assistant, Curtis Henderson. Franke, now agent at Huntsville, plans to take over his duties here about Oct.

1....Eleven-year old Shirley Burnett—one of a few 4-H girls feeding steers—is about the hardest worker in the fair's club steer worker in the fair's club steer show; she handles a pitchfork like a veteran, and keeps her two fat calves bright and clean at all times. Latest criticism of the fair is the lack of a poultry exhibit. Poultry is a big business here—one concern reported killing 10,000 chickens Tuesday—but the only place the chicken is mentioned at the fair is in a 4-H exhibit, which explains "Poultry management pays."

Bengals Will Go To Paris Friday For Third Game

Football fare in Corsicanai will be spare this week, with the Corsicana Tigers on the road to Paris, Navarro Junior College idle, and the State Home Laddies idle unless a last-minute game turns up for that crew.

Tigers to Paris.

An unknown number of fans will follow the strong Tigers to Paris Friday. Some will balk at the 150-mile trip, but there is a good chance for a real tough ball game, and others won't miss the chance to see the defending champs of District 13-AA in action. On past performance, Corsicana is rated a good edge in the pre-game guessing, but the Wildcate will be on their home field, and can always be depended on to cook up something special for touted visitors.

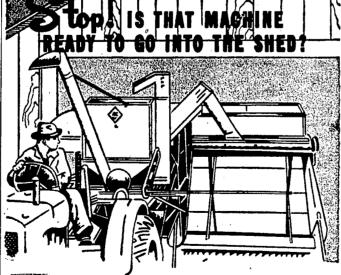

Bulldogs Idle.

This week is the regular open date for the Navarroans have lost their only two starts but their loss last week was plenty close, and Bulldogs followers predict a winin the next outing. That comes against Cisco here next week. State Home has been trying to match a game this week with any Class B team it can locate, but this has proved difficult, and no word has been received yet of a team wanting a game for that date. A NEW SERIES OF LESSONS ON ART OF CHRISTIAN LIVING

Doubts and Insecurity Plague the World Today—The Christian Gospel Has a Remedy -From the Beginning the Church Has Had a Message And a Program

These are real and pressing questions. A great scientist speaking recently to the pastor of one of the largest churches in the United States said, "You religious leaders had better keep the churches going and in healthy condition, else you may cause the scientists to become the worst butchers the world has ever known anything about."

We are not left in the dark re-

We are not left in the dark regarding the duties and privileges of the Christian life. Everything we need to know can be found in the Bible. There are some who we need to know can be found in the Bible. There are some who scoff at this, who may say that the Bible is an outmoded book, and maintain that there are no real moral standards. But even the people who talk thus know that this is plain stalling. It is an attempt to evade obvious issues. The situation is much more simple than many are willing to admit. The pathway is plain enough before our feet for us to walk in it. It's up to us.

Old Truth for New Day.

sunday school lessons will deal with the topic. "Growing in Christian Living." Here is a practical series of studies indeed. This week we examine the nature of Christian living, and the lesson begins with certain of the Beatitudes. Throughout the whole lesson runs the theme that truth is aternal and despite all feshion. forms of error, is the ulti-standard of life.

able forms of error, is the ultimate standard of life.

The two greatest statements of truth ever revealed to mankind are the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. They constitute the law by which the race must live. Only one truth transcends them, and that was the life of Jesus and its culmination on Calvary. Jesus lived even more greatly than He taught.

Oftenest overlooked, yet of primary importance, is the fact that the Bestitudes, which introduce mary importance, is the fact that the Beatitudes, which introduce the Sermon on the Mount, are in the present tense. They present a condition of life possible for us now. They are not "pie in the sky," as the Communist flippantily says, but food for today, "Bless," the proof in spirit the ly says, but food for today, "Blessed are" the poor in spirit, the mourners, the meek, the spiritually hungry, the merciful, the pure in heart, the peacemakers, and the persecuted.

Jesus was primarily concerned about character, rather than about circumstances. He knew that character, in the long run, shapes circumstances. Therefore he had character, in the long run, shapes circumstances. Therefore he had the audacity to declare that those whom the world despises, but whose souls are attuned to eternal truth are the really happy and significant persones in every community. They are salt, keeping it from putrefaction: light, helping their fellows to walk in the

Beyond all cavil or question, the multitude of persons who seek to conform their lives to the standards of Jesus are really the determinative force in the nation's life. That more than half the population of the United States and Canada are connected with some church is monumental evidence of the present power of God over human lives.

But the lesson this week deals also with passages from Paul's modern note. For with all our faults, we of this generation are really severe with cant and hyprocley whether we encounter it in our own lives or in the lives of others. We all believe that in our own lives or in the lives of others. We all believe that an an an anare. The modern Christian as an are. The Gospel is Practical. Some may feel that James is too practical, neglecting many of the spiritual values of the gospel in his determination to make everybody behave. But surely a better definition of pure religion and undefiled has never been found than this: "to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep one's self unspotted from the world." If thou the truth would teach;
Thy soul must overflow if thou
Another's soul woulds't reach;
It needs the overflow of heart
To give the lip full speech.

some 20 from the Southwest to discuss a comomn bond—newspapering.

The group, which will be here through Saturday, is holding round table conferences on the problems of a newspaper and foreign affairs. Wednesday night former Texas Governor and Mrs. W. P. Hobby entertained the editors at a reception before a dinner given by Houston's three newspapers. Hobby is publisher of the Houston Post. Mrs. Hobby is the Post's executive vice president.

Floyd Taylor, director of the American Press Institute and traveling host for the foreign newsmen on a tour of the United States, said the various meetings over the country have three purposes.

Exchange of Views

It gives American and foreign editors a chance to meet and discuss journalist problems and to discuss the possibility of forming an international press institute.

Among the visitors are M. Chalapathi Rau, editor of the National Herald, Lucknow, India, and a member of the Unesco Press Experts Commission, and Harold A.
M. Campbell, editor of the Francisco Conference at which the United Nations was founded in 1945.
Claude Bellanger, editor and publisher of Parisian Libere, aPris,
